

Why Attend CALMAT ?

CALMAT educates the leaders of tomorrow in the skills essential for success in the rapidly evolving, global economy of today.

Located in the heart of Silicon Valley, a global center for technology and management education, the California University of Management and Technology stands out among California's many prestigious universities. Our unique focus is to educate future leaders in global, high-tech organizations. Our Silicon Valley campus brings students from around the world to San Jose to receive state-of-the-art management and technology training from successful entrepreneurs, executives and engineers. CALMAT Global offers the same high-quality programs to students worldwide through our award-winning online learning system.

The CALMAT Advantage

At CALMAT you are connected! Students have online access to lectures and assignments to empower them in the learning process and provide the necessary flexibility to excel in the program without sacrificing other commitments. Our convenient, flexible learning programs integrate management training and cutting-edge information technology tools into each of our programs. Students at CALMAT receive a strong theoretical foundation for their studies, but unlike many other universities, our students apply this knowledge to practical, real-world challenges to deliver an optimal learning experience.

CALMAT Support

To facilitate a smooth transition upon completion of the curriculum, CALMAT advisors help you hone your resume and interview skills, and connect you to a variety of internship opportunities with Silicon Valley businesses including many world class corporations and high-tech startups.
